This BlackBag Documentation space is a compilation of information regarding its use based on the given user’s role and permission(s). Understanding the structure and functionality of BlackBag is important in the success of its use. The first section, Getting Started, on the navigational sidebar gives basic login and navigational instructions for all BlackBag users. The following sections are specific and tailored to roles and permissions assigned.

Documentation Navigation

The navigational sidebar on the left will help find components of BlackBag documentation. Select the titles for information, select the expandable list arrow to find nested pages of information.

Search

Can’t find what you need? Search using the search box on the right-hand side in the header above.